WHAT IS THE CAIE?

The Conference of the Americas on International Education (CAIE) is the continental forum, par excellence, that brings together key decision-makers involved in the internationalization of higher education in the Americas. It has become the common space to strengthen contacts, to exchange experiences and to prepare the future of academic cooperation in the region.

The CAIE is organized every two years in partnership with regional, national and international institutions and higher education organizations. It offers a platform to promote good practices, challenges and emerging trends in international education in the Americas.

WHO PARTICIPATES IN THE CAIE?

- Governmental leaders
- Representatives of international organizations
- Higher Education Institution (HEI) authorities
- Academics, professors and experts

CAIE OFFERS :

- Academic Activities
- Meetings with experts
- Expo CAIE
- Networking

WHY COLOMBIA-2019?

The vibrancy and growth of the Colombian institutions and associations of higher education on the international scene demonstrates the efforts that these institutions are making to promote a common inter-American space dedicated to the discussion of the current challenges, best practices and future trends in higher education internationally.

A group of 18 higher education institutions (HEIs) from Bogota form the core host partners for the 6th Edition of CAIE and the presence of these institutions and other key players in higher education explains why this important event will take place in Colombia in 2019.
